

DAU MEETS NASCAR

Retired Marine Lt. Col. Garry Klaus brought a teaching tool to the main Fort Belvoir, Va., campus that students won't soon forget. Klaus, a student in DAU Professor Wayne Glass's recent class on supportability, is a professional NASCAR driver. Pictured are students of Glass's class during a hands-on demo by Klaus of the car's safety, logistics, and supportability features. (Klaus is pictured fourth from the left; Glass is on the far right.)
